The La Jolla Professional Men's Society

Policies

The dress code for the monthly luncheon meetings is coat and collared shirt with Tie being optional. The Country Club rules and regulations provide no denim clothing is permitted.

Use of cell phones, pagers, and beepers while in the La Jolla Country Club is prohibited.

Any announcements in the local press of upcoming meetings may not mention the La Jolla Country Club as the venue. The news media is not allowed at monthly luncheon meetings to cover the speaker.

LJPMS is a social society, the solicitation of business or sales presentations is prohibited.

With a guest's second visit, and a past member's first visit, his sponsor will submit his Application and recommend that the Executive Board approve him for membership.

Approval by the Executive Board and payment of the New Member Initiation Fee is required to become a member.

The recommendation of Speakers to the Program Director is encouraged; however, all Speakers do require the approval of the Executive Board before they are invited to speak.

Political candidates will not be considered as speakers without Executive Board approval. If a political candidate is approved to speak, the opposing candidate(s) should be present and entitled to speak. In this case, a moderator will control the time and subjects each candidate addresses.

As to members who commit to attending a monthly luncheon meeting and do not attend, the Society will be billed for the cost of the meal. Members are on the honor system and expected to pay for the missed meal at the next meeting. Exceptions are made in the event an unforeseen emergency caused the absence.

Near the end of each calendar year, members will be asked to confirm the accuracy of their entry information in the Membership Directory, and if not already done, have their photo taken for the next publication of the Directory.
